THE NEW MANAGEMENT

Dear Uncle Sam: I see that you are runnin' railroads now. It is the finest thing that's happened in this war, I vow. And now that you have taken charge some things I'd like to say. About improvements in the way the roads are run today. I've bought a ton of wormy figs from butchers that I know; I know when you have taken hold, you will not sell them so. The brakemen holler out the names. I never get 'em quite. Please teach those birds how to pronounce the names of stations right. The feller who takes off his shoes and goes to sleep and snores. And sticks his feet out in the aisle, send him to foreign shores. Please make the porters brush our clothes and not just waive the broom. And have some water that is hot out in that old washroom. Just fix these little things for us. We know you have the spunk. Then we will send a thousand more ideas for you, dear Uncle.

STOLEN CAR

Chief of Police Harry A. Ort received a telegram Saturday afternoon notifying him to be on the lookout for a stolen Hudson Speedster taken January 22, from Huntington, W. Va. The license number was 28955. West Virginia license.

Mr. Albert Barrett, aged 21, and Miss Alice E. Pabst, aged 20, both of Dover, were married in this city Saturday afternoon.

SERIOUS CHARGE

Faced By George Heiser of This City—Indicted By Dayton, Ohio, Grand Jury on Charge of Embezzlement.

George Heiser, of this city, was arrested Saturday night about 8:30 o'clock by the local police at Burgoynes pool room on a bench warrant issued on an indictment returned by a Dayton, Ohio, grand jury, charging him with embezzlement.

Young Heiser was taken to police headquarters and after arriving there he and some of his relatives begged that he be not placed in jail for the night. Chief of Police Ort called up the Dayton, Ohio, authorities and after explaining the circumstances permission was granted for Heiser to remain in the custody of his two aunts until this morning.

Heiser's relatives were aware that he had gotten in trouble in Dayton, but were under the impression that the affair had been settled by the payment of some money to the firm which is prosecuting him. Heiser was indicted by the Dayton, Ohio, grand jury on December 19. He was taken to Dayton this morning to face the charges of the grand jury, being accompanied by Attorney John G. Wadsworth.

CARRIES OFF PRIZES

Maysville was represented at the annual West Virginia Poultry Show held in Huntington last week by Mr. Geo. Dodson taking first and second prizes on some of his flock of Light Brahmas.

Master Fulton Borden Manchester, the bright little son of Mrs. E. L. Manchester, of Forest avenue, is very ill with pneumonia.

"SMILEAGE" CAMPAIGN

To Start Here Tomorrow Under Direction of A. G. Sulser — $500 Worth of Books Allotted to This City.

A committee working with Chairman A. G. Sulser will call on all of the citizens of Maysville tomorrow to obtain the sale of $500 worth of "mileage" books that have been allotted to Maysville. You may say what is "mileage" and why a "mileage" campaign? The answer to that is that the committee on training camp activities, of which Raymond B. Fosldek is chairman, has learned through experience that after the study and the grind and drill that turns our patriotic citizens into trained soldiers that will win the war, nothing is more necessary than the sort of relaxation that carries happy laughter with it.

The Military Entertainment Council appointed by the Secretary of War has originated a type of book of tickets that members of the soldiers' family and his friends may send to him at the front. They are called "mileage" books and will be made up of coupons somewhat like the mileage books of the railroads.

In books of one size twenty coupons will be sold for a dollar. In books of another size one hundred will be sold for five dollars. These coupons will be good for payment for seats at any performance in any camp theater. Probably as the movement grows, they will be made good also for certain other and similar uses.

As gifts these "mileage" books will have rather a distinctive character. Each time the soldier tears coupons from his book he will renew his sense of attention from the sender. Every book will constitute a current of interest between the man at the front and the folks back home. Often, of course, one soldier will receive many books, and then he will go the thing which is characteristic of the American soldier throughout the country—he will share his abundance with his mates.

The result will be to change a dangerous period in the life of the soldier into a period of healthful relaxation and refreshment.

RAYBURN-WILSON

Miss Lucille Rayburn, the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Rayburn of Forest avenue stole a march on her many friends last Friday and was quietly married to Mr. L. Dale Wilson in the Episcopal Church at Newport.

Mr. Wilson's home is in Grand Rapids, Mich., but is employed by The Excelsior Shoe Co., Portsmouth, Ohio, as salesman. Mr. Wilson is in the recent draft list and unless called to the colors, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson will leave in a short time for Hapsburg, Pa.

SCOTT-DRYDEN

Miss Edith M. Dryden, aged 18 years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Dryden, of East Maysville, was married Saturday evening to Mr. Francis Scott, aged 24 years, of Cincinnati by Squire Fred W. Bauer.

CLOSE AT NOON

Persons having business transactions with the banks today, should attend to them before the noon hour. As all banking houses in this city will close at this time, for the day.

Oddfellows of this city are looking forward with interest to the district meeting of their order here next month. Big preparations are being made to entertain the visiting brothers and a big time is sure to be enjoyed.

Rev. J. W. Porter, of Lexington, will conduct the prayer service at the First Baptist Church next Thursday evening at 7 o'clock. Rev. Porter is well known here and should have a large crowd out to hear him.

Rev. Tony Anderson, of Barbourville, addressed two good-sized congregations at the Third Street M. E. Church yesterday. Rev. Ezra T. Franklin, of Union College, was to have been here but could not come.

People living in Aberdeen and working on this side of the river had some pretty rough walking this morning as the mixture of rain of sleet on top of the ice made a very disagreeable combination.

The Maysville tobacco market will reopen tomorrow with the floors of all the warehouses pretty well filled. Tobacco should be marketed as soon as the weather will permit.

A heavy fall of sleet visited Maysville last night and later turned into rain, making walking very disagreeable this morning.

TRADE EXTENSION DIVISION

Being Assisted By Department of Business Affairs in Making Meeting at Chamber of Commerce Tomorrow Night a Success.

Another one of the series of weekly meetings being conducted by the Chamber of Commerce in their offices will be held at 7 o'clock tomorrow night. The meeting is scheduled to last one hour.

Director Traxel of the Department of Business Affairs is assisting Mr. C. E. Dietrich of the Trade Extension Division in making this meeting a success. Messrs. Nace Brady and Fred Cablish are members of this division.

The Trade Extension Division members are expecting this to be a banner meeting because everybody in Mason county is interested in getting all the business they can for Mason county.

A prominent and capable speaker will address the meeting and a general discussion will follow.

The Trade Extension Division's job is to formulate plans for more business in Mason county and then work the plans.

The purpose of this meeting is to give every member of the Chamber of Commerce an opportunity to express his thoughts on this subject. This division will consider the suggestions offered and endeavor to make the most possible ones a reality.

What do you think the Trade Extension Division should do this year in an endeavor to obtain more business for Mason county? What are you willing to do to help get more business for Mason county?

Come out tomorrow night and hear the discussion, offer your suggestions and enjoy the fellowship of your business acquaintances. This is a fine opportunity to meet your friends and obtain new ideas.

CARD INDEX SYSTEM IS ADOPTED FOR DRAFTED MEN

Under new regulations received by the local exemption boards Saturday from Provost Marshal General E. H. Crowder, a card index of men skilled in certain lines of work must be kept. For instance, a man drafted into army service from mechanical work, which necessitated much skill, will be indexed and his commanding officer at camp advised of his capacity. In this way he can immediately be assigned to tasks where he can work with maximum efficiency.

Heretofore it has been the custom of the government to await until the men are in service before determining their qualifications for various classes of work while in service.

REDUCED RATIONS

Reduced rations for the American people will go into effect today under new regulations prescribed Saturday night by President Wilson and the Food Administration, some of the chief features of which are: A baker's bread of mixed flours; sales by retailers of an equal amount of substitute flour for every pound of wheat flour sold; sales by millers to wholesalers and by wholesalers to retailers of only 70 per cent. of the amount of wheat flour sold last year; two wheatless days a week and one wheatless meal a day; one meatless day a week and one meatless meal a day, and two porkless days a week.

Both Congress and the country will be taken more fully into the confidence of the Government as to war preparations by Secretary Baker when he appears in the Senate today to reply to Senator Chamberlain's speech in the Senate Thursday, it is announced.

ANSWER MADE

By Diener-Wels Company To Bankruptcy Proceedings Instituted Against It By Packing Firm of Armour & Company.

The following item from the Huntington Herald-Dispatch is of interest here:

That its business was arbitrarily closed up and destroyed by the packing firm of Armour & Company and that the packing company through its agents refused to levy on the firm's personal property but insisted that its place of business be closed, was the answer of the Diener-Wels company to bankruptcy proceedings instituted against it which was filed with R. S. Douthat, clerk of the bankruptcy court yesterday morning.

The answer for the company was prepared by William Wels, president of the concern, which formerly operated a meat market at 1011 Third avenue.

In his answer Wels alleged that Armour & Company sued out an attachment in a local court and "arbitrarily" closed up and destroyed said business." He alleges further that the Diener-Wels company had ample personal property subject to attachment and that its property in its place of business was sufficient to more than satisfy the company's claim.

He alleges further that a suit asking damages in the amount of $3,000 has been brought in the circuit court of Mason county, Kentucky, against Armour & Company and demands that the packing company be required to turn over to the bankruptcy court the property it seized.

In his answer Wels asserts the liabilities of the company were $2,419.80 while the assets, including a valuation of $1,500 on good will, amounted to $3,795.98. He charges further that the company did a weekly cash business of $1,000, at a net profit of ten per cent.

MISS HUKILL SINGS AT FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Miss Marguerite Hukill, of Cincinnati, charmed two audiences at the First Presbyterian Church yesterday by her beautiful singing. In the morning she sang the celebrated solo from Handel's Messiah, "He Shall Feed His Flock Like a Shepherd," and at night, in connection with the song service, she sang a beautiful solo to the familiar words "I'm a Pilgrim and I'm a Stranger." She has become a great favorite in Maysville, and her singing always draws the people.

NO LABOR FAMINE

It may sound absurd for Secretary Wilson to say that there isn't any labor shortage in the United States. Everybody knows how hard it is to get enough labor for war industries, and most private industries are little better off. But the secretary makes out a pretty good case.

He remarks that we haven't taken a large number of men from industry, as numbers are reckoned in America. Great Britain, with less than half our population, took 5,000,000 for her army and left the labor supply 25 per cent short, thereby making a big readjustment necessary. But we, with our million and a half of men transferred to military service in the first year of the war, have only taken 3 per cent of the country's workers. And that is less than the number unemployed under ordinary conditions.

Conditions, to be sure, are not ordinary at present. Industry demands more men than usual. Unquestionably the total number of workers in America could be productively employed if they were all available. But the point is, we're not in anywhere near such bad shape, regarding the labor supply, as we imagined.

The trouble, says Secretary Wilson, is not so much a shortage as a lack of adjustment. We can get along all right if we simply distribute our workers better among the various industries. In some branches, the building trades for example, there is a surplus of labor.

Under a proped system these skilled workmen would not be left idle. They would be assigned to appropriate war work in their own communities, or transferred temporarily to other communities where their services are needed.

There is much for the federal, state and municipal governments to do along this line, in co-operation with the labor unions.

LIVES AND DAYLIGHT

The national day-light project has usually been considered in its aspects of saving artificial light and getting more fun out of life. Here comes an array of health workers who agree that saving daylight will be the means of saving lives.

Says Dr. Charles F. Baldwin, director of the bureau of public health education of the New York City health department: "One of the cardinal principles this bureau has always laid down is the necessity of getting plenty of sunlight, fresh air and exercise in order to keep well. The effect of getting another hour of daylight would have a marked effect upon the health of the nation. Sunlight kills germs. The plan would be of great benefit to those suffering from tuberculosis."

Miss Helen Varick Boswell, president of the Woman's Forum, says that the efficiency of the woman in industry will be greatly increased by daylight saving. She mentions the fact that at 4 in the morning and 4 in the afternoon one's vitality is lowest. "The time to quit work will come just when that 'gone' feeling is strongest, and there will not be an hour of excessive mental and physical fatigue to drag through."

The National Civil Service Reform League tried the hour-earlier schedule for two summers, and the vote of the office force was unanimously in favor of continuing the schedule. The Life Extension Institute has also tried the plan among seventy-five employees with excellent results.

That sunlight is the best of cures for many ailments is universally known. There seems to be every reason for trying the experiment, financial, social and physiological.

INCIDENTAL BENEFITS

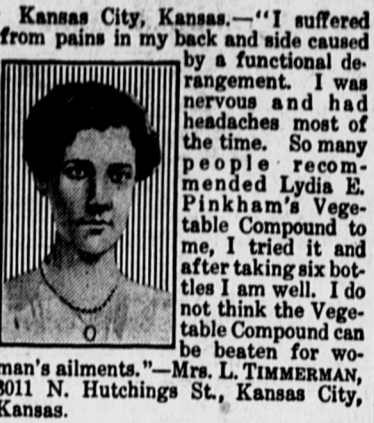

Anyhow, the workless days imposed on millions of workers by the factory closing order have had one good result. A lot of odd jobs that have long needed doing around the house have got done at last. Father or brother or son has got busy with a paint brush, a varnish brush, a hammer, a screw-driver or other useful instrument and proceeded to make domiciliary repairs and improvements.

There was nothing else to do. Prolonged idleness within doors, in cold weather, hangs heavy on the hands of a normally active man. And so the men-of-ink in countless homes, aided thereto by their always-busy women-folk, have at least earned their meals.

The same sort of thing has been done in factories. Repairs and alterations that were impossible while the plants were working under pressure have been attended to. The equipment will be in better condition after the moratorium.

PAINS IN BACK AND SIDE

Yield to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Kansas City, Kansas.—"I suffered from pains in my back and side caused by a functional derangement. I was nervous and had headaches most of the time. So many people recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to me, I tried it and after taking six bottles I am well. I do not think the Vegetable Compound can be beaten for women's ailments."—Mrs. L. TIMMERMAN, 3011 N. Hutchings St., Kansas City, Kansas.

Women who suffer from headaches, nervousness, backache, the blues and other symptoms of a functional derangement should give this famous root and herb remedy a trial.

For forty years it has been overcoming such ailments of women after other medicines have failed.

If you want special suggestions in regard to your condition, write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. The result of long experience is at your service, and your letter will be held in strict confidence.

RIGID OBSERVANCE

Of Wheatless Days and Meals For Next Three Months Is Asked By State Food Administrator Sackett.

Louisville, Ky., January 26—Every man and woman in Kentucky, whether resident of the city or the county, is asked by Federal Food Administrator, Fred M. Sackett, to observe rigidly the practice of wheatless days and meals during the next three months. Unless this is done, our soldiers in France and our associates in the war will suffer for the want of wheat, Mr. Sackett said.

"Perhaps the gravest problem facing the Food Administration now is that of wheat shortage," Mr. Sackett said. "At our present rate of consumption we will be from 75,000,000 to 90,000,000 bushels short by March 1. So it is imperative that we consume less white bread and other wheat products. We must observe rigidly Mondays and Wednesdays as wheatless days and one wheatless meal on every other day."

Further restrictions in the use of wheat by bakers in making bread may be required also. The Food Administration is considering limiting the bakers to 80 per cent wheat flour and requiring the use of 20 per cent of other cereals. Consumers may also soon be compelled to buy a pound of other cereals with every pound of wheat flour.

"It is better to have wheatless days and meals now than wheatless months later on," Mr. Sackett said. "But many persons as yet are not sufficiently alive to the importance of eating less white bread. Every one should make it his personal duty to cut down on his consumption of wheat."

That the observance of wheatless days and meals has resulted in a great saving and a material help in winning the war, Mr. Sackett was confident. "We have already exported the whole of the surplus of the 1917 harvest, over and above the normal demands of our own population," he said. "All of the wheat we are eating in this country now, and all of the wheat we are exporting now, has been saved. It is all the result of wheatless days and meals. And all of the wheat we consume and export until the next crop comes in will be the result of our saving. Hence the duty to save rests imperatively on every citizen."

Control of the wheat supply by the Food Administration has resulted in actual money gain for both the farmer and the ultimate consumer in America, Mr. Sackett asserted. "The farmer today is receiving 109 percent more for wheat than he did on an average in 1906," he said. "And the consumer is paying 30 percent less for bread. Out of every dollar the consumer is paying 30 percent less for bread. Out of every dollar the consumer pays for bread the farmer gets 42 cents. Before the Food Administration stabilized the price of wheat and bread he received only 22 cents. This is a gain for the farmer of 20 cents on every dollar spent by the consumer for bread."

QUEENSLAND TOWN WRECKED BY STORM

Sydney, New South Wales, January 26—The town of Mackay, in Queensland, has been overwhelmed by a cyclone which produced a tidal wave and flood conditions. Heavy loss of life is feared. Fourteen bodies have already been recovered. There is a call for food and other assistance for the stricken community.

WILSON IS CHOSEN

Washington, January 26—Frank R. Wilson, now assistant secretary of the federal farm loan board, has been chosen publicity director for the third Liberty Loan campaign to succeed Oscar A. Price, who is private secretary to Secretary McAdoo as director-general of railroads.

Mr. Wilson formerly was editor and owner of the Sioux City (Iowa) News and for the past year and a half has been connected with the federal farm loan board. He acted as an advance representative for Secretary McAdoo on his Liberty Loan Bond speaking tours and also preceded the farm loan board when it toured the country before the organization of the land banks.

EXEMPTION BOARD TO MOVE QUARTERS

Because of the fact that the County Exemption Board received many complaints from the young men who appeared for examination for the army draft several months ago that the concrete floor in the basement of the government building was entirely too cold for comfort, it has been decided to move the headquarters to some other place before the next bunch of men comes off for examination, which will be soon.

The plan of having the Sunday evening services of the Maysville churches in the Sunday School rooms was put into effect for the first time yesterday. On account of the shortage of coal most of the churches were glad to make this change as in some instances it cut the amount of fuel used over one-half.

COSSACKS IN REVOLT

Petrograd, January 27.—An official statement issued today by the Bolshevik government says that on Wednesday the Congress of Cossacks from the front was inaugurated at the military State of Kamensky and passed unanimously a resolution declaring war on General Kaledines and relegating all authority to the Congress.

A military committee, the statement adds, was formed and detachments were sent to capture the towns of Likhala and Zverovo. Eighteen superior officers were arrested. Continuing, the statement says: "The Cossacks were fired with enthusiasm and are striving to end Kaledines with their own hands. "The regiment detailed to arrest the general staff was too late. At the staff headquarters a note written by Gen. Kaledines was found declaring that the railways had been placed under special control."

EVIDENCE NOT FOUND TO JUSTIFY RETURN OF INDICTMENTS, SATS GRAND JURY

Frankfort, Ky., January 26.—No indictments were found by the Franklin County Grand Jury against persons accused of bribing in connection with the Democratic caucus nomination at this session by the Legislature. The grand jury adjourned today. Evidence sufficient to base an indictment could not be secured, said the grand jury in its report. Representative M. E. Gilbert, T. P. Oliver and R. C. Musick were called before the grand jury. Gilbert said at the caucus in his speech nominating Claude Thomas for Speaker that he had been offered a $1,500 job to desert Thomas. Similar statements were made privately by other members.

RIOTING IN BERLIN

London, January 27.—The Amsterdam correspondent of the Express says that extraordinary reports are current concerning a revolution in Germany, and that there have been rumors of grave disorders in Berlin during the past two days, the rioters clamoring for peace. He also reports bread riots which were ruthlessly repressed by the police, many men, women and children being wounded. The correspondent admits that confirmation of these rumors is impossible, but thinks that it is remarkable that no telegrams, either press or commercial, were received in Holland on Friday direct from Berlin, all coming by roundabout routes. None of Thursday morning's Berlin newspapers have arrived.

DRAFTED MEN WILL BE CURED OR SENT TO JAIL

Washington, January 27.—Refusal of drafted men to undergo operations necessary to remove some minor physical defects which interferes with the performance of their duty, has led to the War Department issuing a general order which provides that if a soldier refuses to undergo an operation declared to be necessary by a board of three medical officers he shall be tried by court martial.

MORE OR LESS

Our days have long been wheatless (For some, they have been oat-less). The days of less are growing by the score.

When you think of all the meatless. All the heatless and the sweetless. To the week they'll have to add a few days more.

Now our Mondays, they are shopless. (We wish thermometers were dropless!) But withal, be patriotic, calm your fears; For we must not growl nor grumble. This is better than the rumble Of cannons and artillery in our ears.

But—if you want to make folks smile now, Feeling fine and life's-worth-while now I tell you, men, It would surely be variety. It would greatly please society— To have a warless day now and then.

WHAT! SO SOON!

Chicago, January 26.—Increased prices for war bread under the new Government regulations were forecast at the Executive Committee meeting of the National Association of Master Bakers here tonight. President Henry W. Stude said the demand for wheat substitutes no doubt would tend toward higher prices. "The national association," said Mr. Stude, "has asked the Government to take the same control over the cereals to be used in bread that it has over wheat. It is an unfortunate fact that at the present flours to take the place of wheat are selling for a higher price in the open market than is wheat flour. The supply of these substitutes is not all that we could wish. It must, therefore, be obvious that the new regulations, if they have any effect on price, will tend toward an increase."

Chicago faces the probability of another tie-up in the railroad yards as a result of a blizzard which started Saturday morning and threatened to continue throughout the night. Because of the shortage of fuel and certain food supplies, another tie-up, it was said, would bring serious results.
